Ordnance Company Is Beaten by Washington Soccer Club in Hardfought Game, 4 to 2.

Before a large gallery of enthusiasts of the British game of soccer the newly-or-ganized eleven of the Steel Plant was de-feated yesterday by the Washington Sofeeting yes the start of the game, taking the ball from the Capt. Cox and Right Back McGinty and eleverly toeing the ball into the netted square. Martin, for the ordnance makers from across the river shoved the first score for the "arm-orers" and the first half finished with Steel Plant one to the good. In the second half the Washington socerists got busy, team work being much n evidence. Steadman jailed the ball: the goal continuously and passing the 'sphere of many breaths' to Capt. Cox. enabled him to place the ball where Jack McGinty and Center Edgar could put it into the open space where Riley was re-serving for a straight kick into the white

Just a little later Arnold slammed the leathery globule through the coveted area, and Edgar followed with another well-placed kick pulling the score up to three for the locals against one for the visitors. Arnold again came across on the play that Capt. Cox is specializing and succeeded in getting the ball in the net for the last tally of the Washingtons. The locals then loafed, whereby "Billi-kens" Packard found it easy to add another score to the credit of the Anacostu

When it comes to the fats, though, the Belgians have to pay a price that's almost prohibitive. It might be said that the commission was frying the fat out of and clothes. That's ten times bigger than any other charity that ever happened.

But it is no longer a philanthropy. The nature of the work of the commission has entirely changed. It is now purely a business enterprise, a purchasing agency with a little remnant of charity on the side. Lindon W. Bates, the distinguished engineer, who has been at the head of the commission in this country, does not texactly approve of this changed condition and has withdrawn from its management, or at least he tells me he will as soon as it is practical for that England and France are getting pretty sick of this Belgian problem. As they say in England, they are 'fed up' with it. The whole world admired and sympathized with Belgium. In an abstract way even her conquerers did that. But the long-drawn-out wail about Belgium has got on a good many people's nerves. They have troubles of their own. When Mr. Bates was living in South America to look after one of his various interests, he became the possessor of a baby jaguar. He trained the little beast, and it trecame as docile and domired and sympathized with Belgium. In an abstract way even her conquerers did that.
